Shanghai, known as “the Door of China”, is a modern city featured by its openness. In this international metropolis, the eastern and the western civilizations are melted together, which shapes Shanghai into an open and tolerant city. Through diversified ways such as lectures, experiences, practices, exchanges, discussions and exhibitions, 3S project members can not only savor the infinite charm of Chinese culture under the background of globalization but also come face to face with this miraculous international metropolis. 3S project members will also have chance to communicate with specialists and professors, students from other foreign countries, Chinese students of Shanghai University, and Shanghai citizens, by which all members will be fully exposed to the openness, confidence and friendliness of Shanghai and Shanghai Spirits which refer to mutual trust, reciprocity, equality, respect for diversity and harmonious development. With experiences and practices, 3S project members will ultimately be cultivated to be successful and confident in cross-cultural communication.
